// Krunoslav Ris and his team are solution for all of you searching trustworthy, creative, punctual company to provide IT solutions or websites. Through all those years I have had an opportunity to cooperate with many web developers. All of them were good, but not good enough. Always I was told "as you wish" the point it was that I needed a solution that combined: latest technology achievement, customized for travel industry my clients, branch and punctuality. All of that was solved the minute I signed the contract with Lumen Spei team, and entrusted my project Putujbolje.com in their hands. Therefore, I'd highly recommend their services and solutions. //

We have hired Krunoslav and his company Lumen Spei to create a new website for the Faculty of Humanities and Social Science, University of Osijek, Croatia. Krunoslav and his team have an aptitude for aesthetics and understanding clients that makes them stand out from thousands of graphic and web designers we have met in the process.

They pay close attention to what you say during consultation sessions and try to capture the essence of your requests in their designs. In other words, they don't just create something that looks visually pleasing, but they also make sure that it reflects the values of your organization and website. Looking forward to new projects with Lumen Spei!
